Hi Agnes,

Also, we've been working on some talking points to use in case the other invited Subject Matter Experts do not attend/agree to the non-disclosure agreement, and we get asked about it. Steve Linder had a conversation Jimmy Miyamoto on this and wasn't sure if you folks were working on something too.

Ours is still going around with our RH Team, and will share as soon as they are ready.

Thanks!

Please contact the US Navy - Agnes Tauyan, 808-473-2875, agnes.tauyan@navy.mil, I do not believe it is possible to do any filming at the facility, as it is a part of the base that does not have public access, but please contact Agnes and she can better explain.

Thanks!

Hello,

We're a French TV documentary crew and we intend to come to Hawaii to do a 52 minutes long film for FRANCE 5 (French documentary public channel).

This film will be part of a travel and discovery series, called " 360@ "

Two hosts are traveling around the world to find the best places and situations to film with a 360° camera. In each film, there will be four 360° sequences, which will be watchable both on TV and smartphone/tablet, simultaneously. Thanks to a special App, people will get on their device an interactive version of the sequences, and will be able to look in every directions.

We would like to film the Red Hill Bulk Fuel Storage Facility in Hawaii. It's an incredible building and a very meaningful place for Hawaii history. We can even film this place in 360 degrees.

Can you tell us who can deliver us a shooting authorization for this place?

If you want to watch how our documentaries look like, click on the link below and you will see the first episode, which was broadcast in France a couple of weeks ago.

If streaming doesn't work well, do a right click and "download".

Here are some examples of 360° videos we did in New Zealand.
